Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 21 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cold and windy but often dry.

This Evening and Tonight:
Windy in the north with bands of showers moving south across Scotland, Northern Ireland and northern England. Mostly dry elsewhere with clear spells, especially in the south and east, allowing it to turn chilly.

Friday:
Sunny spells for most but also a few showers, these mostly across central, northern and western parts. Driest in the south. Winds slowly easing but still feeling rather chilly.

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Fine start for many, but showery rain will spread southeast this weekend. Sunshine and heavy showers Monday, perhaps thundery in the south and west. Temperatures near average, windy at times.
